(GALENA, Ill. – March 5, 2007) – Eagle Ridge Resort & Spa has assembled a basket brimming with fun and activities to help families celebrate Easter and mark the long-awaited start of spring.

In addition to its broad list of always-available indoor and outdoor recreation opportunities, the resort has created an Easter Weekend Package (April 6-8), with a host of special family-pleasing events, including holiday crafts; a jelly bean candy guess; Easter baskets, photos with the Easter Bunny; a variety of egg hunts; a non-denominational Sunrise Worship Service; and a scrumptious Easter buffet in the beautiful Eagle Ballroom. The buffet features an iced seafood table and salad, omelette, waffle, carving and dessert stations for $29.95. A separate children's buffet is $10.95 for children, ages 4 to 12.

If you can't make it for Easter, the Spring Break Package is available March 18 to April 4, and includes $25 Eagle Ridge Dollars to be used anywhere on the resort. Start your day with a workout in the fitness center, and spend time with the family playing volleyball, exploring miles of hiking trails, horseback riding or taking the shuttle to explore the various shops in nearby Galena.

Another draw to the resort is early bird golf. The East, North and South courses open on March 31; The General opens on April 13. Consistently rated as one of the country's top golf destinations, Eagle Ridge Resort & Spa offers 63 holes over four courses designed by Roger Packard. Each course plays out of its own clubhouse, complete with pro shop and restaurant.

Prices for the three-day, two-night Easter Weekend or Spring Break packages start at $279 midweek and $329 on the weekends for a family of four. The resort offers a range of lodging options to accommodate any size family, large or small, from comfortably elegant rooms in the Inn to fully-equipped condos, resort villas and distinctive executive homes.
